

THEY CALL THIS A PLAN?

“We do not need more politicians to spoil the works of our good system.”

- Mary Fruci

“What a huge waste of time and money.”

- James Pasquale

“If it ain't broke, don't fix it.”

- Annette McKenna

According to public statements by city officials and their consultants, here's their plan to manage your water system:

- A new 5-9 member group of Nashua politicians;
- providing “policy guidance” to the Nashua appointed representative on a brand new regional water authority;
- which will engage an engineering firm based in Seattle;
- teamed with another engineering firm based in Pasadena;
- to oversee an operating company headquartered in France.

So much for local control! And they think this will be more efficient and save you money?

Four years, $1.2 million and they call this a plan...

Pennichuck is a New Hampshire-based company that has been serving the Nashua area well for 153 years. It's time for a change, but not in who runs the water company.

Tired of higher taxes? Wasteful spending? Vote for change November 8.
